

New Plaza Complete in Triangle Green

If you haven't had a chance to see this yet, make your way downtown on a sunny day to view the new gateway feature on the east side of the Johnson Street bridge. Anchored by Illarion Gallant's iconic public art piece, Commerce Canoe, the new Triangle Green is now open for public use and features new trees, seating, lighting, landscaping and improved pedestrian and multi-use access. The new black tupelo trees planted in the plaza were donated by the Royal Commonwealth Society Vancouver Island Branch to mark the Common Centennial Celebration. The City is committed to preserving natural areas and ensuring quality green space for residents throughout the municipality. The completion of the plaza supports the City's Parks and Open Spaces Master plan that lays out a roadmap for planning, management and investment over the next 25 years.

Daytime Sheltering Ending in City Parks as of May 1

Daytime sheltering in parks will end on May 1, 2021 as a result of bylaw changes adopted March 18, 2021 by Victoria City Council. The decision comes amid an unprecedented effort to move people inside through an ongoing partnership between the Province, BC Housing, the City and service providers. Council has amended the Parks Regulation Bylaw to remove a provision that allowed daytime sheltering since last year in response to a humanitarian crisis brought on by the pandemic and public health advice that encouraged municipal governments to allow people who are unhoused to shelter in place. The change means the previous bylaw requirement will come back into effect and shelters will not be allowed in parks between 7am - 7 pm effective May 1. For more information about temporary sheltering in parks, visit victoria.ca/sheltering.

Proposed Accessible Parking Requirements and Design Criteria

Council has endorsed new design criteria for public on-street and City operated parkade accessible parking stalls and a budget of up to $350,000 for accessible parking retrofits and expansion efforts with funding from the Accessibility Reserve Fund. Staff will proceed with amendments to the Zoning Bylaw, the Subdivision and Development

Services Bylaw, and the Streets and Traffic Bylaw to establish new supply rates and specifications for off-street accessible parking. Read more here

Plumbing Permit Applications Now Available Online

Applying for a plumbing permit just got easier in the Capital City. Victoria homeowners and contractors can now apply for a plumbing permit online. The City of Victoria's new plumbing permit application system is the first of its kind in the Capital Region and follows the success of the City's online electric permit application launched in 2018. To apply for a plumbing permit, applicants need to first register for a personal MyCity account. The account tracks permits in the system and enables homeowners and contractors to view the permit history for specific properties. Individuals who want to apply for a plumbing permit by phone or email can still do so by appointment. A plumbing permit is required for any construction, extension or repair of any plumbing system and is also needed to make a connection to sewer or water services. Only registered plumbing contractors and homeowners who meet the requirements of the current BC Plumbing Code can apply for a plumbing permit online. Since the City first launched its online electric permit application three years ago, nearly all permits are issued without the need to visit City Hall. Canada Community Building Fund Being Doubled for 2021

Victoria will be receiving a federal contribution from the Community Building Fund of $7,667,506 in 2021, doubled from $3,833,753 received in 2020. The funds can be used by local governments to fund a wide range of projects that increase sustainability and resilience and improve quality of life for residents. From 2016 to 2020, Victoria invested over $18 million from this fund in energy saving projects like LED streetlights, in resilience infrastructure like storm drain rehabilitation and storm water quality improvements and in active transportation projects like new crosswalks and bike network implementation. In the 2021 budget an additional investment of $4.1 million will be directed to storm drain rehabilitation and $2.5 million in bike network implementation. The doubling of this fund for 2021 will allow Council to do more now and to plan for even larger investments in quality of life and sustainability infrastructure as they begin the 2022 budgeting process soon.
